

Stolen Land

They came to take our land,
Scottish settlers, sent by the British government.
First they just wanted to confiscate the land,
But then they refused to live with us barbarians.

They said they wouldn't share their land with us
And forgot that it still was ours.
They tried to expell us from this wonderful place
They were backed up by the British military force,
So we had no chance.

But we couldn't accept to leave our land
and decided to stay strong.
So our lives became massacres and war,
But they killed more of us and showed us that we were wrong.
